++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Central and southern Scotland mainly dry, showers in the north.

Today:
Central and southern Scotland mainly dry with some brightness, perhaps a few showers in the southwest. The north will be rather cloudy at times with scattered showers. Feeling fresher in the cool northerly breeze.

Tonight:
Showers continuing in the far north and a few skirting the east coasts too, drier in the west with a few clear spells developing. Freshening northerly winds.

Wednesday:
Fresh to strong northerly winds will push showers into northern areas on Wednesday and a real cold feel to the day. Best brightness for the Central Belt and southwest Scotland.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A cold, but bright and sunny day on Thursday, rain later in north. Cloudier and milder on Friday some outbreaks of rain. Likely a wet and windy day on Saturday.
